About the Presenter:

Pope Francis is the Bishop of Rome and head of the Roman Catholic Church.

A single individual is enough for hope to exist, and that individual can be you, says His Holiness Pope Francis in this searing TED Talk delivered directly from Vatican City. In a hopeful message to people of all faiths, to those who have power as well as those who don't, the spiritual leader provides illuminating commentary on the world as we currently find it and calls for equality, solidarity and tenderness to prevail. "Let us help each other, all together, to remember that the 'other' is not a statistic, or a number," he says. "We all need each other."

Questions to Ponder:

1. What words from Pope Francis spoke to you strongly?
2. How are you being moved out of your comfort zone?
3. How are 'you' going to recognise the other 'you' to become 'us' and continue a revolution of tenderness?
4. How do you resonate with Pope Francis' description of Hope? Where is the hope you see now?
5. The search for happiness cannot be achieved alone. What are your thoughts?
6. How are you going to be or continue to be creative in love?
